WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Crowd of 2,000 Persons Applaud as Former Secretary of State Asails Whiskey Traffic and Urges Kentucky to Adopt Prohibition.

URGENT SUPPORT OF RED CROSS, Y. M. C. A. AND LIBERTY LOAN ISSUES.

Fully 2,000 persons attending the open air meeting which was held in front of the Court House last night under the auspices of the Democratic Forward League of the State. Mr. Bryan was recently secured by the league to make a number of addresses throughout the state in behalf of the prohibition movement. He has arranged his Chautauque dates in such a manner that he speaks from that platform in the afternoon and in behalf of the Forward League at night. The evening was warm and pleasant and the audience, of which a large percentage was women, stood patiently throughout the entire lecture of the distinguished visitor. Seats for about 100 of the leaders of the prohibition cause in Mason county were reserved about the stage from which the former Secretary of State spoke. Decorations of flags were placed about the rostrum.

Ovation For Bryan

Mr. Bryan arrived in Maysville at 5:38 p. m. on C. & O. train No. 16, instead of coming by auto as was planned. Dr. A. J. A. Alexander of Woodford county, who was accompanying the noted man, furnishing the automobile was called home on account of his wife's illness. However a large delegation of about 200 persons welcomed the speaker at the train and escorted him through the streets to the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burwell on East Second street, where he was entertained during his stay in Maysville.

The Maysville Bluegrass Concert Band discoursed sweet music throughout the evening before the speaking began. This organization deserves commendation for the splendid efforts they made to furnish patriotic anthems to please the auditory nerves of the many hundreds awaiting the speaker.

Introduced by Mr. Wood

Mr. Bryan was introduced by Mr. A. F. Wood of Washington, deputy County Clerk, who referred to him as one of the leading Democrats of the United States. His remarks were very brief, but were to the point.

Mr. Bryan opened his speech by referring to his previous visit to Maysville. He then entered into a discussion of the work of the Red Cross and of the Y. M. C. A. in their wonderful work among the soldiers. He urged the undivided support of all citizens of the country of these two splendid organizations, saying that they were capable of caring for the physical and moral well-being of the soldiers of the army and navy.

Mr. Bryan also urged the purchase of government bonds on all loans authorized. He characterized them as being a most profitable investment and said that they were the safest in the world.

Mr. Bryan said in part:

"The President now bears a heavy burden. No President before him has had a heavier burden than he. The Congressmen have their constituents to represent. The President and Congress have called a million men to be trained and taken to the battle front. They will be called upon to make the most extreme sacrifice known. We have not the burden of the response and we ought to be glad to do what we can.

"There are two things we can do: 'The first is, we should stand as one man, without a dissenting voice, without discord, and support the Government's every act until this war is over. It matters not what our opinions might have been as to entering the war. The time for discussion is over. When the Government acts it acts for all and in behalf of all. This is the meaning of a democracy.

"There are four ways of effectively increasing production. They are by the organization and co-operation of farmers, by enlisting new producers—child groups are the most important of these, there ought to be ten million children enlisted in corn clubs, canning clubs and garden clubs—economy in the use of foodstuffs. The United States now produces and consumes more food than any other nation in the world does, or ever has in any era in history.

Tells of Crime

"There is no American who can look back over his public career and rejoice over it more than I can. None has seen more things he has advocated written into law.

"But never have I championed a cause so great to its effect to the welfare of the nation, never have I known a reform grow so rapidly on the one hand as it has on the other.

than I am of the fight to make the nation saloonless forever more.

"There is a difference between the advocate of prohibition and his opponent. The advocate of this movement is engaged in an unselfish work. He is working entirely for the people and his country. The opponents are different. There are two classes of them—the influential ones, at least—those who are in the fight for pecuniary reasons and those who are fond of liquor and don't want it abolished.

"The stand of the first call is understood. The second are already demoralized and nearly destroyed. They are those who when sober admit that alcohol is not valuable, and when they are not sober their actions speak louder against it than their words possibly could.

Could Repeal Laws

"The man who says that it is not this, could silence every speaker if he proved alcohol was not injurious. He could tear down the foundation of the fight against it. He could repeal every law written for prohibition on every statute book in every land. But he will not. He will not even attempt to do it. History and experience prove the contrary.

"The line between moderation in drinking and intemperance is too dim to be seen. It is a line like the far horizon where light is lost as it sinks into the black darkness of drunkenness.

Patriotism is Intangible

"Patriotism is intangible, it is eternal, everlasting. For countless ages it has sacrificed and won on the altars of the nation. But patriotism is no match for alcohol. Bombs dropped from the heaven are not so treacherous. Torpedoes rising from the ocean's depths are not as menacing as the schooner that crosses the bar.

"It is only advocated by the host who drink more of profits than the nation's welfare.

"You can trace the saloons by the rising death rates of children. Men who are in the business know they are taking money that could buy food, clothing, shelter and education. They take a man's money and make a man worse.

"What will these saloon men say before the judgment bar of God, who says, 'Thou Shalt Not Kill?' From old age to infancy the toll of their murder for money can be counted. The liquor dealers can corrupt the legislatures but they are powerless before the throne of the Almighty.

"We now come to a new issue. Kentucky must decide whether to join. If she does not decide in favor of prohibition she decides in favor of an issue which the majority of the people of the nation have decided against. She gets on the immoral side of a moral issue.

"I would not exchange one bright boy for all the war bonds whiskey and money could buy.

"No man is more indebted to the Democratic party than I am. When I was thirty years old and the party took me up and I have been in it ever since. All I have, all I am, all I ever hope to be, I owe to the Democratic party. I would not be worthy of any part of this if I would not risk anything to keep that party from becoming sordid regarded nefarious. The liquor interests have tried to control everywhere else in the elections. They will try to do it in Kentucky. But, so help me God, they won't if anything I can do can keep them from it.

"Do not bury the party in a drunkard's grave and place above its tomb the stigma of dying in delirium tremens and disgrace."

Many persons are planning to go to Ruggles Camp Grounds on next Wednesday, July 4th, to attend the Old Settlers' Reunion. This popular, camping grounds annually draws hundreds of people from all over northern Kentucky.

THE DAILY PUBLIC LEDGER

COMPLIMENTS FROM THE RHINE

Hear the esteemed Cologne Volkszeitung:

"Not a mother in Germany will put the American soldier even to so mean a usage as a bogey with which to frighten her naughty children. We are practically certain, as all Germans are, that since the days of that wretched piece of sham fighting known as the Spanish war, when the American mountain brought forth such a ridiculous mouse, the United States army, thought it may have assumed some of the external characteristic of the present day, has undergone practically no change for the better. Its spirit, which is purely and blatantly mercenary, is the same, and this will be proved when the time comes—if it ever does—when the Yankee hosts once again go forth to meet the enemy."

Oh, very well! Far be it from us to argue with German editors about the merits of our fighting forces. The reference to the Spanish war, we might remark in passing, isn't altogether a happy one for the Germans, considering the unceremonious way in which the imperial German navy was sent about its business by Admiral Dewey when it tried to butt in at the taking of Manila. As we see it, too, that Spanish war, though it didn't amount to a great deal judged by present standards, nevertheless reflected no particular discredit on the United States. We bungled, but we never lost a battle. We started in to lick the Spanish army and navy and free Cuba; and we did it, just as we've done what we set out to do in every national undertaking in our history. If Germany comes half so near to accomplishing her aims in the present war as we have come in every war we ever waged, she'll be lucky.

But why bandy words? If the Germans want to bolster up their waning courage by depreciating the American army and navy, let them, by all means! The more they underestimate us, the easier it will be to wallop them when we get around to it. They made that same mistake when Great Britain entered the war, and now every time they bump into "that contemptible little British army" they execute a "victorious retreat." May they hug the same delusion to their bosoms until they meet up with our "blatantly mercenary" army, and enjoy a few rounds of its "sham fighting!"

PRUSSIAN WAR LOGIC

"Johnny says he didn't start the fight."

"He didn't, replied Jimmy. 'I had to start it myself. He wanted to keep on heaven's rocks at me an' pretendin' he wasn't fightin'."

This colloquial gem, from the Washington Star, is something more than a mere jest. It reads like a parable. It presents neatly the present war situation of the United States and Germany.

One of the most curious phenomena of this "made-in-Germany" war is that Germany up to the present time has refused to admit that she is at war with us.

And there's a peculiar fitness in attributing this bit of belligerent repartee to small boys. Anybody who has closely observed the mental processes of Prussian statesmanship and American childhood must have been struck by their similarity.

A WISE OLD CUSTOM

Some gray-headed men who grew up in New England remember the custom that prevailed in many families of making a boy or girl "clear the plate" or eat what was left at another meal before getting anything else. That was not irrational or cruel. The child was permitted to help himself or herself. If too much was taken the discipline of having to eat it sooner or later was wholesomely educative. We may get back to it. Waste is never justified in prosperous families or other families. It is a big element in giving children an utterly false idea of what makes prosperity, at least in blinding youngsters to the vitalism of thrift on which all accumulation is based.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Remember that the farther you send a dollar on an errand the longer it will be getting back.

OUR SOLDIER BOYS

A friend has received a letter from Private Lucian Luttrell in an eastern army camp wherein he details circumstances revealing his happy surroundings and good health with cheerful outlook for the future. Lucian commends discipline and work which the life brings. Further than this his movements are not disclosed. Our boys in the Southern Army camp to this same friend tell of Ben Middleton, Richard Thomas, Charles Summers, Bernard Hanley and John Newell as experiencing the reactionary influences in that they are now quite well seasoned soldiers and thru learning have overcome the greater burdens and by exercising knack and doing and through good health are cheerful and happy. Our Maysville contingent in Fort Benjamin Harrison are all in good health and now that the rigor of their first experience has passed have settled down to a happy enjoyment of those experiences which we trust and pray will go no further.

GLAD TO TESTIFY

Says Watoga Lady, "As To What Cardui Has Done For Me, So As To Help Others."

Watoga, W. Va.—Mrs. S. W. Gladwell, of this town, says: "When about 15 years of age, I suffered greatly. Sometimes would go a month or two, and I had terrible headache, backache, and bearing-down pains, and would just drag and had no appetite. Then it would last two weeks, and was so weakening, and my health was awful."

My mother bought me a bottle of Cardui, and I began to improve after taking the first bottle, so kept it up till I took three. I gained, and was well and strong, and I owe it all to Cardui.

I am married now and have 3 children. I have never had to have a doctor for female trouble, and just resort to Cardui if I need a tonic. I am glad to testify to what it has done for me, so as to help others."

If you are nervous or weak, have headaches, backaches, or any of the other ailments so common to women, why not give Cardui a trial? Recommended by many physicians. In use over 40 years. Begin taking Cardui today. It may be the very medicine you need.

WEST VIRGINIA COAL PRICE IS CUT TO $3.00 BY OPERATORS ACTION

Washington, June 28—The sweeping reductions in the price of bituminous coal at all mines east of the Mississippi river, ranging from one to five dollars a ton to the public with a further cut of fifty cents for the government were agreed upon today, at conferences the operators and government officials. The new prices become effective July 1.

Four hundred operators who gathered here yesterday at a call from Secretary Lane and pledged themselves to furnish their product at the reasonable price, were represented in the final conference by committees from each field.

Earlier in the day they had agreed to place the price fixing in the hands of the government, through the defense council's coal production committee, Secretary Lane and Commissioner Port of the Federal Trade Commission, thus avoiding the possibility of violating the anti-trust laws.

Director Smith of the geological survey, estimated that the reduced prices would mean that the operators would get $180,000,000 less annually for their output and that the saving to the government and the coal consuming public would be even greater.

Commissions Limited

In addition to placing prices upon coal at the mines it was announced that jobbers, brokers, retailers and commission men would be permitted to charge commissions of not more than twenty-five cents a ton and that no more than one commission should be charged. In other words, the consumer will get his coal at the mine price plus transportation charges and twenty-five cents per ton.

WIRELESS STATION FOUND

Christina, June 28—In an investigation into the German espionage system a secret wireless station has been discovered on an island outside of Arendal, with a wide view of the sea. Suspicious characters have been arrested in various places in Norway and many of them have been sent across the border.

ROADS INCREASE FREIGHT HAULAGE

Washington, June 28—Reports from railways controlling fifty-one per cent. of the country's mileage, show that the railroad war board's conservation campaign resulted in the transportation over these lines of 3,354,000 more than ten miles of freight in April than they carried in the corresponding month of 1916. In announcing this accomplishment tonight the board declared it was equivalent to adding 35,000 miles to the nation's road facilities.

"This road," said Chairman Harrison, "was accomplished with the movement of but 4.3 per cent. more locomotive miles and five per cent. more freight car miles, resulting in an increase of 68 tons of 10.4 tons or 10 per cent. per loading of cars, equivalent to the addition of 126,000 cars to the equipment of the roads reporting."

"The drive the board is making to get railroads and shippers to make every freight car do the work that two did before the war, is having telling effect. Reports received by the board indicate prompt acceptance of its suggestion for loading freight cars 10 per cent. in excess of their marked capacity. One railroad in April hauled 2.92 tons more per car than in April of last year. Inspectors are watching the loading of cars in all parts of the country to insure the full use of all equipment."

Mr. Harrison said that 19,000 of the 34,250 cars recently ordered returned to lines handicapped by shortage already had been delivered and that others were being sent in train loads direct to points where they are needed.

WORK THAT TELLS

Plenty of It Has Been Done Right Here in Maysville.

To thoroughly know the virtues of a medicine you must investigate its work. Doan's Kidney Pills stand this test, and plenty of proof exists right here in Maysville. People who testified years ago to relief from backache, kidney and urinary disorders, now give confirmed testimony—declare the results have lasted. How can any Maysville suffer longer doubt the evidence?

Henry S. Gallenstein, blacksmith, 124 W. Third St., Maysville, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pains and my kidneys became well." (Statement given January 9, 1912.)

RESULTS THAT REMAIN
OVER FOUR YEARS LATER, on November 14, 1916, Mr. Gallenstein said: "I haven't had any need of a kidney medicine since I last recommended Doan's Kidney Pills. The benefit they gave me has been permanent." Mr. Gallenstein is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mr. Gallenstein has twice publicly recommended—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c all stores. Price Advance

Competitors have circulated a report that the Ford has advanced $100.00. This is emphatically untrue and is done merely to help them sell an inferior car for more money. However, I am expecting every day to receive notice to advance the price. All orders are being taken with the privilege of cancellation if price advances. The company has notified me to mail all orders the same day they are placed. It is my opinion that all orders will be filled at present prices if orders are placed at once, but you should not delay the matter a single day. Place your order today and play "safety first."

Chiropractic

(Pronounced Ki-ro-prak-tik)

First Aid to Nature

Wide awake people in all walks of life know that that Drugless Art of Chiropractic has brought hope and happiness in many cases where the Art of Medicine has failed. This "Science of the Nerves," now 21 years old, is a sound, sensible system for restoring lost health without using the knife or drugs. Its main principle is that nature will commence to throw off sickness, just as soon as full and free nerve force stimulates the affected part. Spinal adjustments made by the Chiropractor tend to bring about this vital nerve activity throughout the body—heart, stomach, lungs, kidneys, liver, bowels, spine, brain, etc. Ask for booklet.

THE MORNING HOUR

At this time when all people are intensely interested in Bible study, one has a rare opportunity at Kavanaugh Camp to join a Bible class conducted by Mr. J. M. Fuqua. To learn of our neighbors across the seas, in China, Japan, Korea, Africa, and Brazil, or of those here at home, one may join the Mission Study classes which will be taught by Miss Bessie Combs and Miss Grace Rowland. Of especial interest to young women will be the class in first aid work, a thing so vitally necessary at the present National crisis. Besides these classes competent leaders will conduct institutes on every phase of missionary work in the local societies. If you are an officer this is of especial interest to you to help you to be more efficient. Mrs. J. H. Spilman will give a series of inspirational addresses at the morning hour.

Nerry Old Fox

A red fox which has been robbing hen yards near Hackett Hill, N. H., appears to be undisturbed by the discharge of a gun, even when the weapon is pointed in his direction. When Warren Austin fired a gun at the fox, which was carrying off one of his hens the other day, the animal merely turned and looked at the man, after which the fox trotted off into the nearby woods. CAPITAL EAGER TO GET REPORT FROM PERSHING

Washington, June 28—Complete reports from Major General Pershing upon the landing of his first expedition in France still were lacking to-night and the war department remained silent. The delay may be accounted for by the report that until today General Pershing did not personally visit the American encampment. At the navy department reports are awaited from the commander of the convoy that accomplished without a marooning incident, so far as known, one of the greatest tasks ever assigned a naval force.

There was much discussion today as to when the American troops will take over a part of the great battle line in France. Whatever plans have been made in this regard are closely guarded. No official of any branch of the government would admit having any knowledge of the subject.

In a general way, however, it is known that a considerable period must elapse before the troops can be thrown forward into the trenches. Vast problems of strategic campaigns, of political effects to be sought and of supply and supply lines must be worked out.

Must Be Acclimated

The men, fresh from the tropics or from the Mexican border, must be carefully acclimated to prevent sickness. Admittedly, the main purpose of sending the force in the brief period that was allowed to make ready and get them across, was political. It is understood to have been the sentimental rather than practical arguments advanced by means of the French and British commissions which influenced the Washington government in dispatching General Pershing and his men.

The great need of the moment, as explained by Marshal Joffre, and his British associates, was to send a force with the flag at once to show the people of France, straining under the great burden of war, that a friend was at hand.

There will be no let-up to the effort to keep the force now in France fully supplied with everything an army needs. When other divisions may be sent, has not been announced; but the work of making them ready is going ahead day and night in every section of the country.

OREGON TOWN IS WIPED OUT WHEN DAMS GIVES WAY

Baker, Oregon, June 28—Reports from Haines, say the town of Rock Creek practically was swept away today when a fifty foot dam at the flooded Killmaeue Lake, fifteen miles west of Haines gave way.

Almost every building in the town is said to have been destroyed. It is not known whether there has been any loss of life as communication is cut off.

Along the path of the rushing water people were fleeing, carrying with them what few belongings they were able together, according to reports reaching here.

Several ranches have been flooded. The loss will run into the thousands of dollars, it is believed, as the district affected is considered one of the most productive grain and hay sections of Oregon.

Killmaeue Lake is located on the summit of the Elkhorn mountain range. When the dam gave way, the water cut a path 200 yards wide down the mountain side.

The dam belonged to the Eastern Oregon Light and Power Company, which constructed it to supply power to towns in this vicinity. The lake covers about thirty acres.

MULLIKIN TRIED

Before Juvenile Judge W. H. Rice yesterday Morning and Held to the September Term of the Mason County Grand Jury.

Sam Mullikin was tried before Juvenile Judge W. H. Rice yesterday morning at the Court House for the serious crime of carnally knowing female under 16 years of age. Mullikin was arrested in Ripley on Wednesday for this offense and lodged in jail there upon the request of the Maysville officials. He waived requisition papers, which process of law would have detained him in the Ripley jail for 10 days, and was brought to the city Thursday. His bail was placed at $1,000 at the time.

Mullikin is charged with having carnal knowledge of a female under 16 years of age. Following the examining trial yesterday he was held over to the Mason County Grand Jury at its September term and his bail placed at $1,000.

Joseph Braesing was tried for detaining a woman against her will, he having the keys to the room in which according to the girl she was confined in Mullikin's House. She said that she could have escaped but was ashamed to see anyone. Braesing denied having detained her at any time and said that he had taken the girl to Ripley in the buggy with Mullikin merely to accommodate the latter. He was held over to the Grand Jury in the sum of $200.

FOUR LARGE ENGLISH CARGO CARRIERS ARE SUNK BY SUBMARINES

Boston, June 29—The torpedoing and sinking of four large British cargo carriers was announced in advices to local insurance officials today. The steamers were the Ultonia of the Cunard line, 6,530 tons; Haverford, of the American line, 7,493 tons; Buffalo, Wilson line, 2,583 tons; and the Manistee, another Cunard vessel. No details of the losses were given and no mention was made of the fate of the crews.

Neither the steamship Ultonia nor the Manistee, reported torpedoed and sunk, carried either passengers or troops, according to representatives of the Cunard line who had not been officially informed tonight of the loss of the two vessels.

The American line steamship Haverford, which was under British register was said to be the largest American line vessel which has yet fallen prey to a submarine. She was built at Clydebank, Scotland, in 1901, was 631 feet long, 59 feet beam and 11,635 gross tons.

APPEAL OF RAILROADS

For Fifteen Percent Increase in Freight Rates Is Denied by Interstate Commerce Commission.

Washington, June 29—The Interstate Commerce Commission today denied the plan of the railroads of the United States for a horizontal of fifteen per cent in freight rates.

In its decision the commission indicated its willingness to increase class rates in the eastern district approximately 14 per cent. Since about one-fourth of the freight handled is moved under class rates, the decision virtually allows the eastern lines about four per cent increase in gross freight revenue. Increases sought in rates on coal, coke and iron ore will be granted.

The commission found, as the result of extended hearings, that the carriers generally show a substantial and increasing financial prosperity and that they have ample resources with which to conduct transportation.

Little sympathy was given the arguments of the roads that they were victims of war prices, the commission holding that the carriers have profited by the mobilization of troops.

The commission suspended the proposed tariffs until October 28, but it is understood that no rehearing of the case will be of value at this time, and suggested cancellation of the tariffs.

The commission finds that the gloomy forecasts of jeopardized incomes, seen by railroad officials early in 1917 have not been borne out by the figures available for later months. The proceedings were brought in March, when the returns from February were just being made. February was one of the worst months in railroad history. The subsequent months have shown increasing revenues, while expenses, in many cases, failed to mount to the extent the carriers' officials feared.

The decision points out that the carriers' comparisons have been made largely with those of 1916, which was the banner year in railroad earnings and adds that the 1917 income might be considerably diminished without necessary indicating a danger point in earnings.

INVESTIGATE STRIKE

Phoenix, Ariz., June 29—Activities by labor agitators among copper miners in this district which governor Thomas Campbell designated as of a "sinister German character" caused the governor to ask the war department tonight for a military investigation of the situation.

Governor Campbell also requested the United States department of labor to appoint a conciliator to attempt to secure an agreement between the owners and striking copper miners at Bisbee.

The sheriff of Cochise County made a detailed report of strike conditions to the governor today.
